

Arbutus menziesii

PACIFIC STRAWBERRY TREE, PACIFIC MADRONE

This is an attractive tree with smooth russet orange sinuous trunks, its peeling bark and thick green leathery leaves. It produces white urn-shaped flowers born in upright clusters in spring followed by red to orange rough strawberry-looking fruit.

This tree is bird-attracting. It is suitable for residential properties and as a feature tree in parks and open spaces.

Has moderate frost tolerance and high drought tolerance once established. Prefers some frost protection in early years. May grow well on elevated areas. Grows best in well-drained soils. Full sun position.

Foliage Evergreen

Form Oval

Mature Size 8 x 6m

Family Ericaceae

Small

Evergreen

Oval

Bird Attracting

Feature Bark

Feature Flower

Shade
Tree

Disclaimer: The material contained on the Speciality Trees website is for general information only. Although much care has been taken to provide the information on its website, Speciality Trees does not warrant the accuracy, completeness or currency of this information and its suitability to your needs. All material listed on the Speciality Trees website, its associated links and product sheets are varieties either ready for sale or in production. This is an information source and not confirmation of availability. It is strongly recommended that users enquire about product availability independently of this source.