

Callistemon citrinus x pallidus 'Hot Pink'

HOT PINK BOTTLEBRUSH TREE

Flowering with hot pink bottlebrush like flowers on the terminal shoots and branches in spring, Callistemon 'Hot Pink' will give to the sunny garden a flower colour not seen before in Callistemons.

Planted singly or in rows they will impress with their clean upright growth to 1.5m by 1m wide in most situations.

Callistemon 'Hot Pink' is easy to grow with minimal requirements. They need to be watered in well at planting and kept moist for several months until they have rooted well into the garden soil. Prune, if needed, to shape and size and is best done following the major flowering in spring.
