

Corymbia citriodora 'Herberton'

LEMON-SCENTED GUM TREE

With denser blue/green foliage, this is a more consistent, fuller form version of the traditional Lemon Scented Gum. All the traditional attributes of Corymbia citriodora (syn. Eucalyptus) remain intact, including distinctive, often powdery white to grey coloured bark which curls long, and slender shaped leaves with an amazing, strong lemon fragrance when crushed. Bird and insect attracting.

A great feature tree that needs significant space. Great for parks, gardens and wide streetscapes.

Prefers full sun in well drained soil. Can tolerate most soils and grows well with or without moisture.
