

Fraxinus excelsior 'aurea'

GOLDEN ASH TREE

An attractive deciduous tree for all seasons with a rounded crown. The foliage is a light yellow colour turning pale green in summer. In autumn the foliage turns a brilliant golden yellow that is the main feature of this tree. In winter the young branches are yellow with distinctive black buds. A stunning tree with multi-seasonal interest.

A beautiful year round specimen tree planted for autumn colour and interesting young branches in winter. Can be used in any sized garden. Great for shade in parks

Prefers a deep loam, moist for best results. Will tolerate heat, moderate dry periods and wet conditions but does prefer cooler areas.
