

Prunus cerasifera 'Elvins'

ORNAMENTAL PLUM TREE

This small flowering plum tree produces deep rusty red foliage in autumn and lush green foliage in summer. In between, it is flush with single white flowers turning pink over time. A nice selection for year-round interest in small gardens and streetscapes.

This selection works well as a feature tree in any landscape for year-round interest.

This tree is tolerant of most soils but prefers a soil that is moist, well-draining and fertile. Flowers best in a full sun position although it will tolerate a little shade. Prune to keep neat.
